PAUL H. COLLINS

Paul H. Collins

Mr. Collins is a man little known to the average student, but a man of great importance to the administrative branch of Marshall University.

Married and the father of two teen-age daughters, his official duties are varied and effect many. A few of them include the following: Organizing and directing extension work, off-campus workshops, and in-service programs for county supervisors; coordinating campus workshops and institutes; consultative services for county school systems; and serving as an "executive vice president" of the University.

His off-campus activities include the Naval Reserve in which he holds the rank of Lieutenant commander. He is also affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, Kappa Delta Pi, Professional Educators Honorary, Kiwanis Club, and Masonic Lodge.

Mr. Collins holds a Masters Degree in Elementary education and has done further graduate study at Harvard University and the University of Virginia.

A DEDICATION

To Paul H. Collins, a man of many talents, abilities, and activities, but most of all a man of tremendous importance to Marshall, The 1961 Chief Justice is dedicated.

Greek Week 1960 saw Darlene Harbour reigning as Greek Week Queen, with a parade and Greek games climaxing the week's events.

Interest and hard work paid off in fun and, in some cases, in prizes as each sorority and fraternity enthusiastically participated in Greek Week—the sororities making entries for the parade and the fraternities building chariots for the race. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Xi Delta took first place honors in the chariot race, and Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Xi Delta were first place winners of the relays. Also in the winners' spotlight were Sigma Sigma Sigma and Lambda Chi Alpha, who claimed winning entries in the parade. They received, as their prize, large wooden paddles.

They saved the day for  $\Sigma K$  and  $\Sigma \Phi E$

The South shall rise again!

Friday at 3:00 p.m., the Kappa Alpha Fraternity, wearing their confederate uniforms, left their fraternity house to march on Marshall's campus where they conducted their annual secession ceremonies. After seceding from the "Union" and presenting the Kappa Alpha Rose, Kay Billings, they proceeded down 14th street with their parade. When they reached the court house at 8th street, they seceded from the city.

The week end included an informal party Friday night, and Saturday night the beautiful Old South Ball. The activities were culminated by an all-day picnic on Sunday.

Behind the scenes.

How about votin' for me?

Never before had such a thing happened in the history of the Marshall University Student Government! In the elections for 1960-61, students who had legitimate excuses for not being on campus during voting hours cast absentee ballots.

But the casting of absentee ballots was the only unique feature of the elections. As usual, enthusiastic campaigns, characterized by bright, eye-catching posters, informal talks, hand-shaking, and campaign promises preceded election day.

Elections come and they go. And each year the parties involved usually remember them with the feeling that their college career is enriched by meeting new people and participating in minor politics.

Parents' Week End

Parents' week end is a tradition at Marshall. One week end each spring is especially dedicated to the parents of Marshall's students. Activities begin on Friday evening and continue through Sunday. Parents are taken on tours of the campus and the buildings. A traditional Mother's Day Sing is conducted in competition between the men and women's Greek organizations at this time.

Laidly Hall welcomes the Parents and honors their queen with a maypole dance.

Vet's Talent Show

In the spring each year the Veterans Club at Marshall University conducts an all-campus talent show. This is a two night affair, whereby the participants who have the highest number of points the first night return the following night to compete against each other. There are winners in four categories: the best individual male and female participants and the best male and female groups.

ROTC Trip To Washington

On January 20, 1961, one hundred Marshall University R.O.T.C. cadets "invaded" Washington for the inauguration of the newly elected president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy. The members of the battle group had made the trip by bus the night before and arrived just in time for the inaugural parade.

Commanded by Cadet Colonel Arvin Vaughan and Cadet Lt. Col. John T. Ingersoll, the group made a fine showing despite the freezing weather. The trip was made even more worthwhile that evening when the men were "turned loose" for a night of entertainment in Washington.

Summer school is conducted each summer in one six week term and one five week term. Any student wishing to attend may do so and carry a maximum of six hours. Aside from studying, everyone looks forward to those sunny afternoons with a favorite someone, later hours in the dorms and sorority houses and just loads of fun along with the grind of studies.

Leadership

And there he goes . . .

Before the beginning of the fall term this year, Leadership Camp, held at Cedar Lakes near Ripley, joined together the leaders of our campus for workshops, discussion groups, recreation, and fishing.

During this weekend, Freshman Guides were instructed as to their duties during Freshman Week; Student Senate prepared to begin a new year; the Homecoming Commission planned for Homecoming Weekend; and Panhellenic and the Interfraternity Council met together to discuss problems and future plans. Several other important groups met to discuss the honor system, student counseling, elections, publicity, and state awareness.

Camp

A faculty session.

The beautiful surroundings of Cedar Lakes also made it possible for a wide variety of recreation and meditation. Early morning vesper services were held just as nature seemed to raise her curtain of mist. Afternoon recreation consisted of volleyball, football, and even the quiet, but exciting, moments of fishing.

All of these things combined to make up Leadership Camp 1960—three days most important in helping Marshall University prepare for a better school year.

Waiting for lunch.

After . . .

September 7, 1960,—Time, 8 a.m.—Place, auditorium of Old Main—YOU ARE THERE! Right in the midst of unfamiliar faces your life of confusion began. Signing papers of all descriptions, and if that wasn't hectic enough, you had to buy handbooks, nametags, and beanies, and were assigned to a group.

A darkness drew near, and thoughts of home entered your mind; but before long, the alarm went off and another day of—standing in line for books; touring Huntington; and worst of all, having to wear those "little Beanies," and looking for those "Freshman Enforcers" began. "If I have to sing the Alma Mater once more—I'm going home." This was a very familiar statement around the dorm that week.

Last but not least, classes started and the week of confusion was over, so you thought. What you didn't know was that the confusion had just begun, for once more it was back to studying and late hours; but you didn't mind it because you were a part of Marshall University and in the future Marshall University will become a part of you!!

Freshman Guides!

Gee, Artie Jo, how long do you plan to stay?

Speaking of something hectic—that's registration. After you finally secure a time card and manage to hold on to it, you prepare yourself for a day of manual labor. Never have there been longer lines, nosier people, gripier deans and instructors, more forms to fill out and more swollen feet than during registration. After it's all over, you settle down to soak your feet and study the schedule you got for the coming semester.

Say, can you tell me . . .

Another part of that freshman week—as if registration wasn't enough, they make us buy these ole beanies.

Registration

Lines, forms to fill out and more and more confusion.

A pep rally, sparked by school spirit and "Swede" Gullickson began the Big Green football season this year. Several pep rallies were conducted during the season and proved very successful. The cheerleaders, majorettes, and band were always on hand to lead the football fans to high spirited enthusiasm. A snake dance followed each pep rally and the students went on their way, inspired again and with hopes of winning another game for their alma mater.

Give 'em hell Marshall

Pep Rallies

Togetherness . . .

Student Union

And where does everyone spend all their free time—the Student Union, of course! This is beyond a doubt the most lived in part of the University. The union provides a close core for social gathering whether students are playing cards, ping-pong, chess, dancing, or just joining in on one of those ole fashioned gab sessions. Also mixes, movies and several other social functions are held there.

Rushing

For every rushee this can be a very hectic time but in the end the rush period is a very rewarding time. Not only do the rushees pledge the fraternity of their choice but they make lasting friends throughout their college days. Informal rush begins with coke parties, and smokers. Then later, in rush, the girls attend a Panhellenic Tea which begins formal rush. At last the bids are issued and the colors and pins are worn by the proud pledges of each respective organization.

Frosh Elections

At the beginning of each year the freshman class is united for the first time. They meet the members of their class that are in the future to be campus leaders. After the first few weeks of school, after freshmen have become acquainted, they elect their officers.

A hustle and bustle of getting posters ready, cards printed, and handshaking are indications that the election day draws near. Candidates stick close to the polls, greeting and urging the voters.

Then comes the excitement of counting and the tension of waiting, and, finally—the news arrives of the new officers of the Freshman Class.

Sidney Sylvester

Finis.

The cheerful mourners.

It was a black day for Marshall . . . all of her students were mourning the death of their top candidate for freshman class president, Sidney Sylvester.

Sidney, much to many students' surprise, turned out to be a cat. The 'ole chap was so well thought of that a funeral was held on campus, so his many friends would see him once more.

Too bad, Sidney, you would have made such a good class president!

Fake feline funeral.

Marshall University was honored by another first on campus again this year. For the first time our school is participating in the INSTEP program which is a project throughout the country for the training of foreign students in a special field in our American school system and in our industries. This is also the first time that a project such as this has been attempted in the state.

For this project, fourteen engineering graduate students from India were here for specialized training. This was a program engineered by John Sayre, co-ordinator and Larry Mathews, counselor. During the nine months period that the students were on campus, they attended sessions at the Armco Steel Co. four days each week and attended special class lectures on campus one day each week.

This twenty-fifth season of the Artist Series was one of the most successful ever. Marshall has the only collegiate program of this type in the state. Students are permitted to go to these by securing a ticket with the showing of their activity cards. These cards include the charges for the various programs combined with other scheduled activities for a very small fee in comparison to the actual ticket cost. This year a well rounded program was presented with top performances by such groups as: the Fred Waring Orchestra, the Kingston Trio, and the Philadelphia Orchestra. These programs are under the direction of Curtis Baxter.

College

The University Theatre of Marshall is indeed one to be commended. Under the direction of Dr. Clayton Page this theatre group presents a variety of plays throughout the year. "The Royal Gambit" and "The Matchmaker" were two of the plays presented this year. Any student is eligible for parts in these plays and tryouts are announced.

Homecoming Dance

Les Elgart and his boys rock out a number for the dancers.

Les Elgart, four beautiful queens, and a massive crowd made the Homecoming Dance a success for everyone. The dance was the scene of the crowning of "Miss Marshall" and the presentation of the trophies. Les Elgart met with a near catastrophe when one of the excited onlookers trampled his trumpet but it all ended happily.

Alpha Xi Delta captured first place honors this year in house decorations with "Marco Has The Magic Touch The Blue Hen Is Now In Dutch." This was carried out by a scene from the land of the Dutch. Sigma Sigma Sigma won second place honors with "The Blue Hens Won't Have A Bone Left To Wish On." Marco dressed as a football player and kicking a blue hen carried out this effective theme.

House

Decorations

Tau Kappa Epsilon, winner in last year's float competition, had the honor of building this year's Queen's float for our reigning Miss Marshall and her attendants. This was a very elaborate float decorated in royal purple and white. Flowers, a fountain and beautiful girls made this scene complete.

The Queen's Float

"Marco Takes 'em to the Cleaners" was the theme of Sigma Phi Epsilon's winning float. This theme was well carried out by Marco putting a tinted blue hen through the cleaning process. Sigma Alpha Epsilon won second place in the float competition with "They'll Never Make It." This showed a blue hen cracking the shell and trying to come out but is unable to do so because of the large Marco pounding him in again.

Prize Floats For

Blood Drive

Two campus blood drives are conducted each year in co-ordination with the Blood Drive Commission. Bob Scott was this year's chairman for the drive, assisted by members of Alpha Xi Delta, social sorority, who gave aid to the donors. This is competitive each year between various Greek organizations, and ROTC Cadets, to which a trophy is given for the organization contributing the most blood.

"Togetherness."

Nina Hatfield serves food to the donors.

Greatly honored were the students at Marshall and the residents of Huntington when John Kennedy made a visit to our campus and our city. He was swarmed by people asking him questions and seeking his autograph, not knowing that soon he would be our next president.

Equally honored were the students when Vice President Richard Nixon visited the campus. He made several speeches to the students and residents of the city. Our campus will long remember the visit of these two great men.

National Elections

An Irish Wash

A 68 foot clothesline on the top of the Science Building caused quite a bit of confusion to the waking students on St. Patrick's Day. It seems that someone braved cold, wet windy weather late that night to climb up and hang a wash out to dry. The clothes were dyed a bright green and orange in honor of that festive, long remembered holiday on Marshall's campus.

During the Christmas season, Marshall is characterized by fun, frolic, and gaiety. Several Greek and Independent organizations hold dances and parties at this time. Various Greek organizations give parties, also for underprivileged children. The wonderful spirit of Christmas is in the air as all the students acquire goodwill and begin thinking of that lengthy Christmas vacation.

Pre-Christmas Parties

Christmas trees, candles, manger scenes, and decorations make the Christmas season a beautiful time of the year at Marshall. It has been customary throughout the years that each girl decorate her door in the dormitory, each sorority and fraternity decorate their houses, and the various other buildings on campus are decorated. Signs of the holiday season can be seen all around.

Christmas Decorations

Christmas Choir

The Marshall University choir combined voices in a beautiful arrangement of old and new Christmas songs for an hour show on WHTN-TV, Channel 13, Huntington. After the completion of long hours of practice and recording, television viewers saw the production done by Marshall's students on Christmas Eve. The choir sang at various locations on campus giving the audience a view of our campus as well as enlightening the Christmas spirit.

Marshall University

March, 1961, is a memorable month for everyone connected with Marshall for it was then that Marshall became a University. As early as 1940 it had been suggested that Marshall be given University status but nothing ever became of it until this year when the students, faculty, alumni and all other associates put their full effort into a drive for gaining our new name. When the bill was finally passed on March 2 the students rang out the news with a waving of "extras" from the Parthenon, a snake dance and many parties. It was indeed a joyous time and shall long be remembered.

On behalf of the students, President Stewart H. Smith was presented an engraved plaque for his hard work in the gaining of University status.

Marshall officially became a University with the signing of the bill by Governor W. W. Barron. This was done at a dedication of the new Men's Health and Phys. Ed. Building.

Finals

United High School Press

The United High School Press conference was held on campus February 10-11 this year. Approximately 300 high school students attended the various activities including a guided tour of the Huntington Publishing Company; a banquet at the Hotel Pritchard where Jack Davis, associated press bureau chief in Charleston, spoke; and several newspaper and yearbook workshops were conducted. This has been an annual affair for over a quarter of a century.

The annual ROTC Military Ball was held February 25 with all the glory and splendor of formal military procedure. With all the men in uniform and the ladies in formal dresses, the picture was quite complete for the crowning of Joyce Jarrett, Pershing Rifles sponsor, as queen of the Military Ball. The Drum and Bugle corp played also with a very impressive performance for her majesty and her court.

Science Fair

Twenty counties in West Virginia, Kentucky, and Ohio participated in the annual regional science fair held on campus March 22-23. A total of 389 junior and senior high exhibits were entered and judged this year. A new ruling was put into effect this year concerning this project. This was that each senior high was limited to twelve entries and each junior high to six. A total of 36 local science fairs were held in preparation for the regional fair and an all-time high of 54 schools were represented.

Editor-in-Chief
1961 Chief Justice
Marshall University
Huntington, West Virginia

Dear Mr. Cohen:

As you can imagine, it is very difficult to choose a Queen from eight beautiful finalists. However, after considerable mental anguish, I have chosen Carol Ann Wilkes and Marcia Eddy as attendants. As MISS C.J. OF 1961 I have picked Diana Abruzzino.

Congratulations to the winners and to the rest of the contestants. Also congratulations on the promotion of Marshall to a University.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely,

Fagus

Chosen at the end of their junior year in college, the women who are chosen to be a member of Fagus have the highest honor that a woman student at Marshall can obtain. They are picked on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship and service. Derived from the Latin language, the word Fagus means beech tree, therefore, the name Fagus stands for the Beech Tree that stands in front of Old Main.

Left: Standing near the tree for which the organization is named, and in front of the Bust of John Marshall, are the senior women of Fagus.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, consists of men who have had previous Boy Scout training, have attained good scholastic standards, and have a desire to render service to others. The ideals of the fraternity are outgrowths or supplements to the beliefs that form the basis of Scouting.

The fraternity not only renders service to the university, but also to the community and to other organizations through its many service projects.

The Eta Upsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega boasts a total of 45 members in its thirteenth year on the campus.

Several projects undertaken by the chapter are: the annual "Ugly Man Contest," with proceeds going into a scholarship fund for a freshman who has had previous Scout training; an excellent swim program for the area Scouts; and members working with area Scout troops.

The Marshall University Physical Education Major's Club was chartered with the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation (A.A.H.P.E.&R.) in 1958. The club's purpose is to promote interest in Physical Education on campus and membership is opened to majors, as well as, non-majors. Club activities for this year are various Fun Nights for the members and a Campus Play Day for all campus organizations. The club plans to have members serve as guides for the dedication of the new Health and Physical Education building and to send members to their national convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

The Women's Athletic Association encourages an active participation in a variety of athletics for all Marshall University women by sponsoring its own intramural program. Other activities include a formal and informal initiation ceremony for new members, camping trips at Camp Dekanawida, and sponsorship of an annual Play Day for seventeen area high schools. The club holds an informal coke party in September to acquaint incoming freshmen girls with their program. Membership is attained by participating in the offered sports, from which the person receives points. Two hundred points are necessary to be asked to join.

Your Freshman year is over, and the friends you have made will last you for life. Not only the friends, but the many memories. Memories of dorm dances, "gab sessions," dates, and many hours spent in the lounge and in the Union.

Following a hectic Freshman Week and Homecoming, the girls settled down to such quiet activities as trying out for the Freshman Cheering Squad, Greek Rushing, and ball games, not to mention the ever present book grinding.

Below: Decorating the Christmas tree is a favorite pastime of the girls in getting ready for the Christmas season on campus.

Dormitory

Below: Cramming for that first period test seems to be the objective of one young lady as she waits in line for her clean linen, while the others wait patiently for their turn.

Below: This gal looks like she has received a call from her favorite beau!

Hodges Hall

These smiling faces belong to a portion of the residents of Hodges Hall.

Hodges Hall—home of scholars and athletes, rich and poor, underclassmen and seniors. This is home for 175 men.

Living in Hodges is perhaps one of the most hectic, yet most fulfilling experiences of Marshall University life.

Late evening finds the lights of the dorm still burning, as students perform a multitude of duties which often includes study. At semester's end, the more diligent students are rewarded for their efforts with a dean's list certificate.

In the spring, we pack our belongings and leave for our summer homes "away from Hodges," but already making plans for the coming year in the dorm.

It looks like it will be a full week end for Freshmen Gary Starcher and Charles Warner as they leave for Thanksgiving Vacation.

"It must be good news from home," says Michael Roussman, as Housemother Mrs. Henrietta Spence and Howard Barrett look on with interest.

College Hall is the oldest dormitory on campus, and also the smallest, housing—girls. The girls enjoy the smallness which permits them to know everyone. During the past year they were busy with many activities, including a dorm Halloween party, Christmas party and dance. Cammack Children's Center was given a Thanksgiving party. Hodges Hall was also invited to a small party, and two open houses were held, in the fall and spring. Vespers were held in the lounge every Sunday night and a majority of the girls participated in the programs. Homecoming was an exciting time when the girls worked with the inter-dorm council on a float and house decorations. Mrs. Golda Dakan, their housemother, is a favorite person with the girls. To show their appreciation to her, at Christmas she was presented with a fur stole.

The Inter-dormitory Council is a new organization consisting of three representatives from each of the dorms. The main purpose of the council is to serve as a unifying and directive body for the dormitories.

The main project for the council this year was a unified Homecoming effort by entering a float into competition in the parade and also house decorations for the Freshman Dormitory.

The float entered by the council parades down Fourth Avenue, with its slogan, "Marco Bar-b-Q's Blue Hens With Sniders Hot Sauce."

Teresa, daughter of Gerald and Nadine Johnson, is showing her dad a new achievement.

With the ever present school books in the background, the Johnson family relaxes for an evening together.

Donald Court Serves Young Marrieds

Donald Court is a housing project for married couples who are students at Marshall University. It is comprised of sixty units which have efficiency apartments for couples who do not have children, and other one and two bedroom units for people with children.

Marshall has leased the property and the apartments from the government and also takes the responsibility for the maintenance of the grounds. Mr. Ray Thompson is the caretaker and Mr. Phillip Modlin, Biological and Physical Science Instructor, is the manager.

Even washing dishes is a big event in married life for this couple.

Student Handbook 1960 - 1961

Marshall College

Student Handbook

The Student Handbook is published annually in September by the Student Handbook Commission of the Marshall University Student Government.

The primary purpose of this handbook is to present to the freshmen an informative book which will answer their many questions about Marshall. The Student Handbook, an invaluable aid to freshmen their first weeks of University life, attempts to cover all aspects of Marshall University: the academic, cultural, extracurricular, religious, traditional, and social.

The staff of the 1960-1961 Student Handbook includes:

Coord. and Editor _____ Jeanne A. Pitts
Business Manager _____ John Dial

Staff Members:

Bob Bledsoe, Kay Coleman, Ray Cumberledge, Karen Danley, Frank Enslow, Ron Hutchinson, Nancy Jett, Patricia Poliskey, and Keith Walters.

Baptist Student Movement

Shown are: Harry Kelley, Mary Martha Baker, Carolyn Russell, Sandy Ebker, and Reverend Lander Beal.

"No man can feel himself alone, The while he bravely stands, between the best friends ever known," and good ole' BSM. The Baptist Student Movement began the year with a reception open to all Baptist students on campus. There has been a fellowship at both the devotional meetings and social gatherings. A few of the activities of the BSM are the Smorgasbord; Election Banquet; State BSM Conference; U. S. BSM summer conference at Green Lake, Wisconsin; Washington-U.N.-Seminar Conference; and both national and international summer work studies and programs. The New Christian Chapel is now the main headquarters of the BSM and will be available for many fireside social and devotional meetings.

We have great expectations for further uniting the Baptist Students on campus in a greater fellowship with each other and with God.

Christian Science Organization

This Christian Science Organization is one of many throughout the world. This year we contributed to the growth of Marshall by sponsoring its first Christian Science lecture. Mrs. Gertrude E. Velguth, C. S., of Flint, Michigan, Member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, spoke. Her topic was "Christian Science: Soul's Restorative Power revealed."

Bimonthly meetings are held in the Campus Christian Center. These meetings include testimonies of healings and experiences in Christian Science and are open to all Marshall students and faculty wishing to attend. We take an active part in Life Planning Week and cooperate whenever possible with other student religious groups.

The Band

Helping to cheer the team at all the home and two of the out of town games in football is the Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Thomas O'Connell, assistant professor of music at Marshall. Open to all interested students, it provides fun and good experience for Marshall's musicians.

After the football season is over, the band assumes its second face, that of the Marshall University Concert Band. In this capacity, it presents several concerts which are open to the public, and also plays at various high schools throughout the state.

Marshall Community Symphony

The Marshall University Community Symphony, under the direction of Alfred Lanegger, is composed of both students at the university and musicians of the community. One of the main events of the year for the orchestra is the "Young People's Concert." The orchestra also presents an annual concert. Three of Mr. Lanegger's students performed at this year's "Young People's Concert"—Ann McGee, violin; Lee Fiser, Jr., cello; and Drew Williams, 5½ year old violinist. The Symphonic Choir joined with the orchestra in presenting the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

The Symphonic Choir is a select group of 45 singers, who are chosen on the basis of try-outs. The choir, under the direction of Lee Wilson Fiser, travels to nearby cities for concerts at churches and schools. The choir has sung at Parkersburg High School and churches in the Parkersburg area, Wheelersburg High School, and other places in the area. In March, the choir performed Vivaldi's "Gloria" at Johnson Memorial Methodist Church in a concert of sacred music. The highlight of the choir's year was preparing a television tape for a Christmas program on WHTN-TV. Several members of the choir performed in "Annie Get Your Gun," which was presented by the Speech and Music Departments.

"Believing that military service is an obligation of citizenship, and that the greater opportunities afforded college men for the study of military science place upon them certain responsibilities as citizens . . ." This sentence from the preamble to the constitution of The National Society of Scabbard and Blade exemplifies the high ideals of this military honorary fraternity. Company K, 12th Regiment fulfills these ideals by annually sponsoring the Food and Clothing Drive to aid the needy, the Military Ball, support for the Marshall University Battle Group and many other campus and civic projects.

Company K, under the direction of Ronald J. Simonton, its commanding officer, Robert Bledsoe, Lowell Morrisson, William Vogel, and with the aid and efforts of its other members, has had the most spectacularly successful year of its existence on the campus of Marshall University.

Mary Chafin, President.

Panhellenic is derived from two Greek words, "Pan" meaning all, and "Hellenic" meaning Greek. Thus, Panhellenic has come to mean an organization of all Greek letter fraternities for women. The Marshall University Panhellenic Council is composed of the President and two representatives from each sorority. The Council directs rushing activities and sets the rules which govern the sororities. They also plan and direct various activities in which all the sororities participate, such as Greek Week and the Mothers' Day Sing. The Panhellenic Council encourages high scholarship by offering a trophy to the group with the highest over-all scholastic average at the end of each academic year. After winning the scholarship cup for three consecutive years, the sorority may retire the trophy.

Junior Panhellenic Council

The Junior Panhellenic Council is composed of the president and a representative of the pledge class of each social sorority. While members of the Council, the pledges are instructed so that they will be able to take an active interest in the Panhellenic Council and understand it better. Each year the representatives in this group from the six national sororities sponsor a project to raise money.

Alpha Chi Omega

19 61

Marshall College

Calories do not seem to be a worry of the Alpha Chi's as Brenda Keys, Bonnie Whelan, Pat Joyce, Judy Johnson, Nancy Jett, Nancy Bonar, Beverly Burnette, Nilda Ramella, and Judy Adams indulge.

Alpha Chi Omega

Taking a rest break are Ann Clay, Nancy McCall, Becky Farley, and Barbara Conley.

Alpha Chi Omega is more than just a sorority—it is a way of life. Our open motto, "Together let us seek the heights," means not only the searching for self improvement, but also that we may lend a hand to those who are not so fortunate. This is best illustrated by the great emphasis which Alpha Chi places on altruistic projects.

During the past year we have been rewarded by enjoying the sisterhood of our sorority, and many of our sisters have brought honor upon our name.

The campus honoraries and other organizations claim many A-Chi-O's as members. Jeanne Pitts honored us by being named to Who's Who. Carol Ann Wilkes is a varsity cheerleader, and Judy Mathisen is freshman cheerleader captain. Politicians we are too! Yes, we have four senators: Jennie Cummings, Brenda Keys, Betsy Daniel, and Jeanne Pitts. Also, there are many Alpha Chi's serving as Student Government Coordinators. In addition to this, many of our sisters participate in campus theatre productions.

Yes, we have talents in every field, and with them we shall someday "reach the heights."

These pledges don't seem to mind a little hazing from their active sisters. Participating are: Marcia Eddy, Diana Lahr, Marilyn Hall, Betsy Daniels, Becky Roberts, Suzanne Scott, Ann McCaskey, and Eberly Smith.

The 1960-61 school year saw the members of Rho Rho Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha working together to better not only Marshall University but our own organization as well. Combined efforts of all made this a big year for us.

After Coke and Rush parties and the addition of a fine pledge class to our sorority, we proceeded into the calendar of events for the year. Planning and hard work were in order for house decorations for Marshall's Homecoming. A stork delivering a football brought out the theme, "We're Expecting Victory."

Holidays and celebrations brought the sisterhood together in work, planning, fun, and play. A hayride, dance, and wiener roast marked Halloween 1960 a time to remember. The Winter Formal marking Christmas and the winter season was held in December at the Spring Valley Country Club. To mark the Spring season, the American Legion Ballroom was the site of our Spring Formal.

A philanthropic project was assumed at Thanksgiving when we gave a basket of food to a needy family. Early Spring rolled around and time for the annual Mardi Gras Ball. The costumes worn by all were many and varied. Springtime and the spirit of the Mardi Gras were in the air. Ending another successful school year with a feeling of enjoyment and pleasure, the Alpha Sigs now look forward to next year.

"Ah—The Sweet Smell of Success," can well be the motto for Gamma Beta Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta.

This group took the campus by storm during Homecoming when Jennie Windsor was elected "Miss Marshall," Suzanne Tamplin elected junior attendant and Joyce Jarrett was sophomore attendant. Also, Alpha Xi Delta won first place in the house decoration contest.

"Fuzzies" are very active in campus activities also. Jennie Windsor and Lois Brown are senators. Joyce Jarrett is a majorette. Ruthie Fuller and Suzanne Tamplin are varsity cheerleaders, and three out of the six freshman cheerleaders are "Fuzzies." Also, many Alpha Xi's are members of honor groups, such as: Fagus, Alpha Lambda Delta, Kappa Delta Pi, etc.

The Alpha Xi's social life this year included a "Sadie Hawkins" dance, the "Castle Ball," and the "Rose Formal." Also, there were numerous house parties throughout the year with different campus frats at which time the "Fuzzies" proudly displayed their newly decorated house.

Delta Zeta

Delta Zeta officers are: Corresponding Secretary, Sandra Spenser; First Vice President, Martha Ayres; President, Sandra Strohmeyer; Second Vice President, Elaine Moren; and Recording Secretary, Fernia Shewsberry.

Along with the "growth of Marshall" has been the growth of Delta Zeta, which is the second oldest national sorority on Marshall's campus. Initiated at Marshall on June 21, 1922, as Delta Sigma Epsilon, Delta Zeta now has more chapters in the United States than any other national sorority. Continuing its growth, our chapter pledged twenty-two new sisters the first semester.

More growth in Delta Zeta is shown as the sisters work in unity and harmony toward helping themselves, their friends and acquaintances, and many underprivileged children. The results of our combined efforts brought to us, the Delta Upsilon Chapter, two silver trays presented at national convention. Through individual and combined efforts the sisters won the scholarship trophy for the highest over-all average of any sorority on campus.

To help Marshall grow, Delta Zetas not only worked together, but with the other sororities on campus. Rewarded for their achievements, Sandra Strohmeyer and Mary Hanna were named to Who's Who.

In the years to come the growth of Marshall will continue as will the growth of Delta Zeta.

Music and card playing are enjoyed by the DZ's before going to bed. Seen here are, Row 1: Judy Chambers, Marna Paulavicks, Jeanine Beane, Mary Hanna, and Nancy Shoemaker. Row 2: Barbara Tatum, Peg Hubbard, Marcia Campbell, and Eva Wharton.

A quick break in between studies is enjoyed by Mary Chafin, Carol Hoffman, Nancy Parsons, Joan Brookover, Kay Pugh, Diana Warfield, Janice Johnson, Sandra Talkington, Eileen Wyatt, and Mary Greenlee.

Officers of Sigma Kappa Sorority are: Libby Trippy, Recording Secretary; Peggy Sammons, Corresponding Secretary; Judy Turner, Rush Chairman; Mary Pat Owen, Treasurer; Linda Bower, House President; Patty Poliskey, 1st Vice President; and Mary Chafin, 2nd Vice President.

"One for all and all for one," say the Sigma Kappas. So they unite in work, study, fun, and play. The result is sincere pride in the sorority. Delta Beta Chapter claimed three awards at national convention this year—endowment, activities, and best newsletter. Sigma Kappas also proudly displayed the Mothers' Day Sing trophy.

When school started, Sigmas had many freshman guides and a host of campus leaders. Joyce Rutledge, Jane Scandola, and Charlotte Dudderar were named to Who's Who. Joyce and Jane were in Fagus, and Joyce was Leadership Camp Coordinator. The Parthenon claimed two Sigmas as editors, Margy Williams and Patty Poliskey, also Fourth Estate President. Nancy Parsons and Vickie Miller were senators. Sharon Haselip and Barbara Charles were varsity cheerleaders, and Barbara Collins and Donna Darbes were freshman cheerleaders. Mary Chafin served as Panhellenic President, and Sue Burns was elected Freshman Homecoming Attendant.

Social life was important too. Sigma Kappa had a "Farmer's Frolic," winter formal, and the annual Sigma Kappa week end. They also had coffee hours for each fraternity, serenades, and fireside chats.

We were represented in campus activities from the beginning of the year with Delores Inclan, also a Student Cabinet member, serving as Chief Frosh Guide. Carolyn Meade and Barbara Shinn were student senators, and Jane Butler was State Awareness Coordinator.

Football season brought the second place Homecoming trophy to our shelves and found cheerleaders Allyn Childers, Mackie Collins, and majorettes Artie Jo Fredeking, Phyllis Wright, and Jane Butler cheering on the "Big Green."

During November two important events occurred. Our retreat was held, and Psi Chapter was awarded the Robbie Page Memorial Award for outstanding social service.

Tri Sigma was especially proud when Fagus members Delores Inclan and Cheryl Noe were named to Who's Who.

The men with the Southern tradition came to the Marshall campus in 1927 and since that time have been active in all school activities. This past year has been no exception. After a very productive rush season the Kappa Alphas declared an open season on the social calendar. A "Beatnik Ball" and the "Convivium Formal," which honors Robert E. Lee's birthday, highlighted the fall semester. The climax of the social season, of course, was the annual "Old South Week End." The Week End included a parade, the formal Old South Ball and featured the gentlemen of the Old South, complete with beards, confederate uniforms, and the beautiful Southern belles.

Kappa Alpha Officers are: Larry Ledsome, Vice President; George Wooten, President; and Ray Baley, Secretary.

The year was 1909, the month was March, the day was the 22nd, the place was Boston University. These are the most important facts concerning the founding of Lambda Chi Alpha, the youngest national fraternity in the United States.

Three law students founded Alpha Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha, and in the fifty-two years since, the fraternity has risen to a place of leadership among its brother organizations, with 150 chapters.

Marshall's chapter of Lambda Chi was founded December 7, 1946. The founding was due mainly to the efforts of two faculty members, Professor Ralph Hron, now retired, and Professor Berkley Shaeffer, still active in fraternity work. Both were members of the physics department.

Striving daily to tell all of the virtues of the Cross and the Crescent, working for the fraternity and for Marshall University, the Lambda Chi's strength is growing for the good of the school as well as for the good of the brothers of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Delta Iota, the largest Pi Kappa Alpha Chapter in West Virginia, entered the 1961 school year with a smash, that was typical and resounding of the Pikes.

Since their installment on the Marshall campus in 1948, the Pikes have long been among the leaders in social events, campus activities, intramurals and in civic affairs. This year was no exception, as a new dance, the Sheik's Shuffle, was added to the Pike social calendar, and it was accepted in riotously typical fashion.

Appearing en masse at the past two district conventions, Delta Iota has walked away with all honors and also boasts claim to the first and second, District 5 Dream Girl with Alicia Elkins Underwood and Linda Brown Stevenson.

With the completion of the year, the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha look to next year for more and better things for Pi Kappa their fraternity.

There seems to be an unusual conversation going on between Art Smith, Myers Jarrell, Dick Thurston, Bob Knaul, Don Sparks, and Jim Kessinger.

Seen admiring the SAE's latest mascot are Jan Haddox, Fred Gumm and Dave Curry.

The brothers of West Virginia Alpha of Sigma Alpha Epsilon reside at 1401 Fifth Avenue, and are found in almost all phases of campus activity. This is seen in the chapter's scholarship record. For the second time in the Sons of Minerva's history, they have won the Province Iota scholarship trophy, having won the campus IFC scholarship trophy for the eighth time in nine semesters in the spring of 1960.

For social activities, the "SAE Prison Week End" was originated this year. Formals, informals, house parties, big brother-little brother parties and other gatherings deepened the bonds of brotherhood.

The SAE's displayed her ideals in earning membership in Marshall's leading honoraries. Eight SAE's are ODK's seven were in the student Senate, and six were in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Reminiscing over the past year for West Virginia Gamma. These Sig Ep's are looking at the chapter's scrapbook: Bob Helvey, Donnie Martin, John Anderson, Jim Gallion, Rich Nedrow, Bill Price, and Glen Savage.

The house with the red door is the home of the men who participate in many phases of college life. During the past year, many victories have been won, such as the Intramural trophy, the Homecoming Float award, football, speedball, cageball, soccer intramurals, and others. Also individual recognition has been given by ODK, Robe, Varsity M, and Who's Who.

West Virginia Gamma Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon was established at Marshall University in 1947 and has grown consistently in strength, unity, and brotherhood. With the support of a devoted alumni chapter and Mother's community, Sig Ep has achieved a prominent position on the campus, in the community and throughout the state.

Being a social fraternity, some of the many activities sponsored are the Snow Princess and Queen of Hearts Formals, and the Blue Mountain Blast. House parties, swimming parties, hay rides, and many other get togethers provide an atmosphere of enjoyable relaxation from scholastic endeavors.

Enjoying a quick game of cards are these Sig Ep's: Don Cutlip, Dick McClain, John Mason, Al Myler, Glen Savage, Jack Perkins, Bill McNeer, Butch Jones, and Roy Smith.

Known as a singing fraternity, the fellows who usually have a red vest on seem to be participating in their favorite pastime. Shown are: Butch Bennett, Bill Price, John Anderson, Bob Helvey, Dick Dorsey, Clark Todd, Roy Smith, Jack Perkins, Rich Nedrow, Larry Ascough, Walt Leonhart, and Bob McComas.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Beta Nu Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon, now the largest college fraternity in the world, enjoyed a bright and rewarding year on the Marshall Campus.

Fifty-nine actives and twenty-eight pledges spent many hours of hard work to bring home for the fourth straight year the Homecoming trophy for the Queen's Float, acclaimed by many to be one of the most elaborate ever seen in the big day's parade. To start the new year of 1961, the "house with the white pillars" underwent a $1300 remodeling job in January, adding a modern touch to our nineteenth century home.

With men representing us in the Robe, ODK, Senate, Student Government members, including the office of Student Body Vice President, Band, Varsity M, Who's Who, and many others, the outlook for the future is most promising.

In March, we won second place at Ohio University at the Teke Intramural Tournament, and danced at our "Shipwreck" dance. Drive-in parties, and parties with the sororities enlivened the lives of all Tekes.

The pledge classes have proven to be very industrious and hard working, and a steady increase in membership for the past several semesters has made Beta Nu the largest chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon in the state of West Virginia.

Nothing like a little liquid refreshment after a hard day of classes is the motto of these Tekes: "Sug" Walker, Fred Withrow, Fred Ganes, Jim Verdin, Bill Kostecka, and Tom Norman.

Plenty of decorations at the Teke house at 1402 Fifth Avenue, but no snow for Christmas this year.

The seven national social fraternities of the university are governed by the Inter-Fraternity Council. This select group, the IFC as it is called, works in conjunction with the school administration. Its membership is comprised of a delegate from, and the President of each fraternity. The purpose of the IFC is to act as a regulatory body, functioning with full school support, with a primary objective of strengthening Inter-Fraternity bonds.

Independent Student Association

This year has been a banner year for the Independent Student Association. There were many changes in the I.S.A. The biggest one was the change from a group form of government to an executive council form which was governed by pre-elected officers who were Ronald G. Hurley, President; Ann Combs, Vice President; Carolyn Reed, Secretary; and Mary Frances O'Connor, Treasurer. These people have strengthened our group greatly as have the Societas and the Cavaliers, our counterparts.

The big social function of the year was the annual Sweethearts' Ball held in February at which time the I.S.A. Sweetheart was crowned.

Officers: Ann Combs, Vice President; Carolyn Reed, Secretary; Ron Hurley, President; Mary O'Connor, Treasurer.

Societas girls relaxing in the Student Union are: Carolyn Reed and Gloria Moeser. Row 2: Joyce McCoy, Sandy Landfried, Judy Menear, Mary O'Connor, and Ann Combs.

Societas

Societas began the school year with a rush tea which was followed by two rush parties: a pizza party and "A Night at the Blue Angel" party with candlelight and all!

Next in line for the busy Societas women was the pledging ceremony and the pledge period which kept the pledges occupied—with duties, tests, and earning merits. Homecoming found the pledges and actives working together on their Homecoming decoration, and at informal parties given by this group, the pledges and actives enjoyed themselves, and especially did they enjoy the Christmas party with the Cavalier fraternity.

The second semester brought the activation of the pledges and another rushing period. In February the Independent Students Association Sweetheart Ball was held which was a real bright spot in the cold winter. At the big dance was crowned the ISA Sweetheart.

This year in Societas found a unity of members and a true achievement of sisterhood. It found the girls working closely together toward the goal of another good year in Societas.

Societas girls watch Cavalier Bill Smelser at favorite chore—writing music. Seated on the floor are Ann Combs and Bill Smelser, while behind them are Mary O'Connor, Joyce McCoy, Carolyn Reed, Gloria Moeser, Sandy Landfried, and Judy Menear.

The theme of the Cavalier's homecoming float this year was "Marshall Dazzles 'Em," the float is shown here with Atwood Luter and Jay Miles shown along side.

This year the Cavaliers, aided by a hard working pledge class and marked success in the intramural program, increased its strength and brotherhood immensely. The establishment of a Cavalier chapter at Concord College added enthusiasm to the local chapter.

The hours spent making papier mache and the other activities peculiar to Homecoming helped to get the school year started off right.

Several brothers held student government positions such as cabinet posts and other commissions. Brothers also served in many other campus organizations.

One of the highlights of the year was the Christmas Party the group gave to the children at the Jones Orthopedic Hospital. Our social life was highlighted by the Spring Formal.

Marshall 0 Wittenberg 3

First game, rain, mud and Wittenberg can sum up the opening game for Marshall this year.

Played in a light drizzle, the game saw the "Tigers of Wittenberg" score on a lone field goal by end Bill Carpenter. Several times the Wittenberg club penetrated deep into Marshall's territory and on all occasions the Big Green's defense proved impassable.

Marshall 7 Bowling Green 14

Going into the game with Bowling Green favored by as much as 39 points, underdog Marshall set a jolt into the Falcons with a narrow margin of 14-7.

Bowling Green's first score came less than two minutes from the opening gun. Marshall held them scoreless for the rest of the half.

With 24 seconds remaining in the first half, Millard Fleming carried the ball 17 yards around the Bowling Green end, scoring a touchdown.

Fleming, sparkplug of the highly underrated Big Green, carried the ball ten times for a total of 115 yards. Fleming ran a kickoff back 57 yards deep into Falcon territory late in the game, for the most spectacular run of the day.

Marshall 14 Toledo 0

The University of Toledo Rockets fizzled in an attempt to launch a victory over Marshall as the Big Green canceled their takeoff by a 14-0 margin.

Running rampart over Toledo's defense, Millard Fleming, left halfback, gained a total of 91 yards. Fleming collected the Wright received a 19 yard pass from May to mark up another touchdown. Wright's persistent running gained a total of 45 yards for Marshall's second TD drive.

Outclassed and overpowered Marshall was swept under by the passing attack of the U of Kentucky Wildcats in a 55-0 downfall at Stoll Field in Lexington.

One thing was nice and that was the train trip to Lexington.

Marshall 6 Kent State 22

Taking the opening kickoff, Kent marched in 10 plays, with Bob Gusbar scoring on an eight-yard pass from Flynn. A run by Flynn added two more points.

The Golden Flashes went 27 yards in six plays for their second touchdown after recovering a fumble by Jasper Wright on a kickoff return. Quarterback Bob Jenkins plunged one yard for the score.

A fumble also set up Kent's third touchdown. Recovering the ball on the Big Green's 27, the Flashes moved to the eight in two plays and then Jenkins ran for a score with 1 minute and 15 seconds of the second quarter remaining. Jenkins then added two points, on a run.

Marshall went 51 yards in 11 plays for its only touchdown with 1 minute and 32 seconds of the third quarter left. Dixon Edwards went over from the one yard line for the score.

Kent gained 211 yards rushing and 35 through the air, to Marshall's 141 on the ground and 75 passing.

Marshall 6 Delaware 6

Playing before a crowd of 7,000, the Big Green tied the Blue Hens 6-6.

Delaware, using a Wing-T with a man in motion and a trap play, pushed deep into Big Green territory. The Hens had the ball on the fourth down and goal to go. They made it on a one-yard run by Michaels. The run for the extra point failed and the score was 6-0.

In the second half Marshall came back to tie the Blue Hens 6-6 on a run by Edwards. The try for the extra point failed. The rest of the game saw the Big Green hold the Hens with their strong defense.

Although Marshall didn't win the game the crowd was still pleased with the game and happy over the 6-6 tie!

Marshall 0 Louisville 7

In their last home game Marshall fought hard to win but because of a fumble in the first quarter Louisville scored a touchdown and with the extra point gained 7 points. The rest of the game saw Marshall hold Louisville with its strong defense.

Playing under gray skies, a biting wind and a steady drizzle the Big Green lost to Ohio U. 19-0.

The Big Green kicked off and it took the Bobcats nine plays to score the first touchdown and the extra point of the game. After Ohio scored, the two teams were held to slight ground gains and were forced to kick.

The Big Green defense held the opposition during the remainder of the half and almost to the end of the game. Two intercepted passes in the last three minutes of play by Ohio set up two more touchdowns, but the extra point attempts were unsuccessful.

Marshall 12 Western Michigan 34

Western Michigan's Broncos bucked the Big Green's efforts for victory in a 34-12 shellacking handed out by the Brown and Gold in Kalamazoo.

Marshall's defense against the persistent Bronco drives grew stronger as the game progressed, just as it has in the seven of the last nine games. But the Big Green goal line defense was weak, compared with previous games.

The first touchdown for the Big Green came when Jasper Wright ran a kickoff from the 10 back to the Marshall 34. Ralph May then sent an aerial to Toddy Fugate on the 44. Alpha Mayfield and Wright moved the ball to the 39 in two following plays. From this point, Jasper Wright stormed through the Western Michigan line on the left side and carried the ball over for a touchdown.

The final Big Green score came when the ball was taken from the Broncos on the seven and carried to the two by Alpha Mayfield. Harper Hill then moved the ball over for a score in two plays.

Marshall 13 Eastern Kentucky 0

Marshall ended the season with a 13-0 victory over the Maroons of Eastern Kentucky. The game played at Ashland was the first of the now annual Shrine Bowl games to be played annually.

Marshall gained two touchdowns during the first quarter and held the Maroons the rest of the game. This was indeed a fitting sendoff to 4 seniors who were leaving the team. It was also the second well-earned victory of the season.

So-So Season Hits Marshall

This year Marshall ended the season with a 11-13 record. It was a year that saw Ohio University win the conference and have Marshall place 4th in the MAC. Starting with Marietta and ending with Cincinnati, the Big Green, seemed to lack the drive and the difference in many of the games can be placed here.

Outside the conference schools Marshall seemed to do better with wins over Clemson and George Washington and others, but in the MAC Marshall seemed to be moving a slow pace.

ADMINISTRATION

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
CHARLESTON 5
May 15, 1961

WILLIAM WALLACE BARRON
GOVERNOR

Editor
The Chief Justice
Marshall University
Huntington, West Virginia

Dear Sir:

It is with extreme pleasure that I extend official greetings to the students of Marshall University.

Our young people today have greater opportunities than ever before to help shape the course of human affairs, not only in West Virginia and the rest of the nation, but in the entire world.

These are challenging times in which young adults are being called upon to carry tremendous responsibilities. Our very existence in the days ahead may be decided by how well they are prepared to shoulder these tasks.

It is reassuring to know that in West Virginia our young men and women are making use of the educational advantages available to them and are facing up to the realities of their duties as loyal West Virginians and Americans.

Congratulations to the graduates of Marshall.

Sincerely,

The President

STEWART HAROLD SMITH
Ph.D., Litt.D., LL.D., L.H.D.
President of Marshall University

During his fourteen years as the President of Marshall College, President Stewart H. Smith's untiring efforts have helped a great deal in attaining "University" status for Marshall College.

Through his "personal contact" method Dr. Smith spent many hours writing letters, appearing before numerous groups, and contacting each legislator. We are indeed proud of our President who "coached" us in our drive to become Marshall University.

As the President of Marshall University, Dr. Smith has a busy schedule which includes administrative problems, numerous meetings, receptions, open houses, ball games, and Artists Series—Forums—Convocations.

In addition to his complex duties as Marshall's President, Dr. Smith is an active leader in the civic and cultural life of Huntington.

Also, President Smith attends as many student functions as possible, as he is quite interested in his students and has a smile and friendly word for everyone. He is well liked and greatly respected by all who know him.

It is through the work of such men as Dr. Smith that Marshall University has grown in size and prestige.

Teachers College

As Dean of the Teachers College, Dr. D. Banks Wilburn oversees the work of the largest college of education in the state.

Dean Wilburn holds a position of great responsibility in trying to fill the constant demand for teachers both in West Virginia and in states across the country. He must adopt the newest theories of teacher education to the Marshall situation in the effort to insure a full and modern training of future teachers. Dean Wilburn holds the Doctor of Education degree from George Washington University.

Dean D. Banks Wilburn

College of Applied Science

Dean Ambrose E. McCaskey

Dr. Ambrose E. McCaskey, former head of the Engineering Department, was appointed Dean of the College of Applied Science on September 1, 1960. The new college of the University embraces the departments of Engineering, Military Science, the Medical Technology program, and the new Department of Nursing Education.

Dr. McCaskey, recently appointed by Governor Barron to membership on the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers, is President of the Planning & Zoning Commission of the City of Huntington.

Dean J. F. Bartlett

College of Arts and Sciences

As Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. J. Frank Bartlett has great need for his vast educational background. He holds a Doctor of Philosophy Degree from West Virginia University and has done post-doctorate work at the University of Zurich, the University of Edinburgh, and the Technische Hochschule in Munich.

During his tenure, Dean Bartlett has expanded the scope of the College of Arts and Sciences, and its enrollment has grown proportionately. Aside from his various and numerous administrative duties, he devotes much time to counseling students on academic subjects.

Graduate School

Dr. A. E. Harris, Dean of the Graduate School, is a man of exceptional abilities and capabilities. Holding a degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the State University of Iowa, he stands at the head of the Graduate School with inspiration and a challenge for those under him. Not only does he hold a commanding position as Dean of our Graduate School but he is also Chairman of the Department of Social Studies. In both these positions, Dr. Harris stands as a strong man.

The well proportioned education and the means of intermingling education with life are held within this scholar and is radiated through him to those with whom he comes in contact. Our fine Graduate School and the efficient manner in which it is run exemplifies the life of a man—its dean.

Dean A. E. Harris

Mrs. Lillian H. Buskirk

Dean of Women

In charge of the housing, welfare, and general adjustment of the women students at Marshall University is Mrs. Lillian H. Buskirk, Dean of Women. Hers is a job which few can do well, yet Dean Buskirk is efficient and shows enjoyment of profession.

Dean Buskirk received her A. B. Degree and her Master's Degree at Marshall College. Having been educated here, she now leads the busy life of helping and developing mature women make education profitable in jobs and community life.

Dr. Harold L. Willey

Dean of Men

Dean Harold L. Willey plays an important role in the lives of the men of Marshall. Through direct personal counseling and administrative action, he promotes the educational, moral, and social development of the male students. Under the jurisdiction of Dean Willey are matters from administering scholarships and loans to running a lost and found service. His confident, assured manner comes from skill and a sincere desire to do his job right.

The name of Harold L. Willey is synonymous with interest and concern for those students who have known him as Dean of Men.

Registrar

The duties of the Registrar, Luther Bledsoe, and his staff are to admit and register students and to keep track of them after their admission. All student academic records are on file in this office; veteran status, academic classification, grade records and other statistics.

The office of the registrar is also responsible for summer school bulletins, course schedules and the editing of other academic information sheets.

Paul H. Collins

Administrative Assistant

It is the duty of Paul H. Collins as Administrative Assistant, to assist President Smith in preparation of all personal action requests, budget requests, and recommendations to the Board of Education. He represents the President at such meetings, conferences and functions as he may direct.

He must also maintain files of official Board actions and prepare and distribute duplicate copies of such action to the various administrative offices affected, and to maintain up-to-date personnel files containing individual folders on each employee.

Comptroller

The Comptroller and Business Manager, Fred R. Smith, and his staff are responsible for drawing up budgets, processing requisitions, collecting and disbursing money and maintaining proper accounting records.

Departments responsible to the office of the Comptroller for their operations are the Superintendent of buildings and grounds, managers of the Bookstore, the Student Union, and Dining hall, the dietitian, managers of the Duplicating department, the Receiving and inventory department, and University switchboard.

Fred R. Smith

Harold Apel

Library

The James E. Morrow Library, headed by Harold Apel and named for a former president of Marshall College, operated in the 1910's with only a few thousand volumes. Presently, the library contains over 120,000 volumes and is expected to experience a rise to 130,000 volumes by 1970. Marshall's Library is classed as the third largest in the State and is frequently visited by citizens of Huntington who find the facilities generous and the book collection balanced to provide material for general and specialized study and research.

Placement Office

The Office of Placement was added as a full-time service in 1959. Located in a specially constructed office of a former Old Main classroom, this office is the scene of hundreds of interviews and job placements.

Robert P. Alexander, Director of Placement, personally interviews students to aid them in making job choices which will prove satisfying both to them and to their future employers. Jobs can be found for those seeking summer, part-time, or full-time employment.

Robert P. Alexander

Frank E. Spear

Information Service

News releases to local and home town newspapers and radio and TV stations are prepared by the Information Service. Other responsibilities of this office include the weekly Faculty Bulletin, the Speakers Bureau, College Catalog, and folders and pamphlets on nearly every aspect of Marshall life.

The service, directed by Frank E. Spear, is not a general "information booth," but often acts as such for bewildered campus visitors and telephone callers.

Building and Grounds

With over 20 buildings and 215 acres of land, Mr. Haskell is quite a busy person at Marshall. His control and supervision of the buildings and grounds staff, custodial staff and conditions of the buildings and the campus keeps him on the move. Sometimes the pressure of work is so great that the superintendent must fulfill requests on the basis of urgency or need. In all Mr. Haskell is quite a busy person and a credit to the University.

Mr. Haskell

Treasurer

Directing and controlling the payment of faculty and employees, paying of bills and keeping the University accounts in order, is the duty of Miss Louise Thompson and her staff.

With such a large responsibility it is important that the people in charge be keen and alert when handling the finances of the University and Miss Thompson and her staff fulfill these requirements to the cent.

Miss Thompson

Food Service

Mr. William Spotts controls the entire food services which entails the operation of the dining hall, maintaining a staff and selection of foods to be served. With over 3,000 meals served a day, Mr. Spotts is kept busy with the students and faculty of the University. Besides this busy schedule he is also called upon to serve at special occasions such as guests and banquets given by the University. In all, Mr. Spotts does more than his share in bettering the living conditions of the students and the hospitality of Marshall.

Mr. Spotts

Student Union

The Student Union, managed by Don Morris since April, 1945, is the scene of many informal gatherings such as coffee hours, chess, checkers and card meets and planned recreations including mixes, meetings, and movies.

The Shawkey Student Union was built in 1932 and named in honor of Dr. Morris P. Shawkey. In 1955 the facilities were doubled, and today this self-supporting establishment can serve at least 400 students in a two-hour period.

Don Morris

Percy Galloway

Book Store

The Bookstore, with which most of you are familiar, supplies the written word on campus to the tune of 30,000 books each year.

Percy Galloway, who has managed the store for 26 years, states that the students buy books here at much lower prices than at any other state school. Marshall mark-up prices are less than one-half of those of other state schools; they are set by the college and approved by the State Board of Education for the benefit of Marshall students.

Duplicating Department

In the words of Mrs. B. L. Bias, the head of the Duplicating Department, nearly everything printed on campus is printed here.

On entering the department one sees machines of various sizes, hears duplicating sounds coming from that machine and tries to focus on a sign reading—Tension—in appropriate lettering. Here the tense and often tricky job of composition and layout is done on various things such as multi-color programs and brochures.

The cost of printing the same material downtown would be prohibitive. The periodical tests by which students are confronted are discretely handled along with less secret materials as bulletins, schedules and budgets.

Mrs. B. L. Bias

Dr. Charles H. Hagan, Jr.

College Clinic

The clinic which recently operated in a converted residence on Fifth Avenue, was established in the new men's gym. Next year's Freshmen will benefit by the added space for physical examinations.

The clinic is supported by student health fees and one may obtain simple medication at no extra cost. Even those immunizations shots are free except for a small $1.00 fee for polio which is given to the National Foundation.

Dr. Charles H. Hagan, Jr., a Marshall graduate is the part-time physician. The nurse on full-time duty is Mrs. Mary P. Summers.

Religious Counselor

As Marshall University's religious counselor, the Reverend Lander Beal's main job the past year has been co-ordinating the construction of the new Student Christian Center.

Now complete, the Center will house all former activities of the Campus Christian Fellowship, to which the Rev. Beal is advisor, as well as a full projected program in September, 1961.

Regardless of faith or religion, Marshall's Students feel free to approach the Rev. Beal with their personal problems.

Rev. Lander Beal

A. Doyle Carter

Receiving

A. Doyle Carter, head of the Inventory and Receiving Department, is in charge of all campus property. In the receiving department, located in the basement of Old Main are cabinets with thousands of I. B. M. filing cards. Each card stands for a piece of university property. The desks, chairs, maps and chalk in each classroom are on file.

As purchasing agent, Mr. Carter sees that new material such as furniture is of high quality and durability. All packages, equipment and merchandise received on campus are checked and classified before delivery to their proper place.

Development and Alumni Affairs

Located in Room 129 of Old Main, John Sayre directs the affairs of the Development and Alumni Affairs Office which acts as a link between the university, its alumni, and all other interested groups.

This office keeps our alumni informed of the progress of Marshall and works with Student Government committees on such activities as Homecoming and Parent's Week End.

Also, the Development and Alumni Affairs Office administers the affairs for the Marshall Foundation Incorporated and the Marshall Alumni Association and is directly responsible to the Boards of Directors of each organization and to the President of the University.

The staff members of this office include the following: John Sayre, Director; Miss L. Marie White, Directress of Records; Mrs. James Via, Morning Secretary; Mrs. William McComas, Afternoon Secretary. In addition to these staff members who are all Marshall alumni, six to eight student assistants are employed to help with the great amount of work that this office handles.

Who's Who Among Students in

Teresa Jeán Battlo

Robert Lee Bledsoe

This key is the symbol worn by those who represent Marshall University in Who's Who Among Students In American Universities And Colleges. The names and faces of these Marshall students listed in the national publication are familiar to many people who have observed them in the numerous groups they have belonged to or the numerous activities in which they have participated. "Numerous" seems the logical word to use, for one characteristic the Who's Who members possess is versatility. In addition to versatility, students are selected for Who's Who on the basis of their leadership ability and on their academic record.

American Universities and Colleges

Mary Margaret Hanna

Delores Kay Inclan

The Who's Who Commission of Marshall's Student Government, selected on the basis of good judgment and impartiality, works with the Social Deans in determining which Marshall students qualify for this honor. Then the publishers of Who's Who also check and recheck the records of those selected.

The number of listings in Who's Who granted to a college or university is a measure of the school's program of academic and leadership development. Marshall's twenty-nine listings speak well of its cultivation of student potential.

OUR Ever-Present CHALLENGE

The prosperity and individual freedoms we enjoy today are hard-earned gifts from our forefathers and must never be taken for granted.

Each new generation must stand on its own feet and preserve these freedoms.

The freedoms we enjoy through the American Way have a high price and must be earned over and over.

W. Somerset Maugham expresses it this way: "If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom; and the irony of it is that if it is comfort or money that it values more, it will lose that, too."

Ever meet a Doubting Thomas?

A college senior once remarked to a Bell System interviewer: "A telephone career must be a mirage. I hear talk about fabulous training, fascinating work, grade-A job security, and rapid advancement in management. Sounds a bit too rosy. What's the real story?"

The interviewer knew mere talk wouldn't sell a skeptic. So he showed him some "profiles" of recent college graduates who had enjoyed that fabulous training, had worked at intriguing jobs, and had won early management promotions.

Our once-skeptical friend has been with the Bell System 3 years now—and is currently supervising the work of 55 other telephone people.

We've converted a host of Doubting Thomases. Whether doubtful or not, you'll learn a lot about rewarding telephone careers by talking with our interviewer when he visits your campus. Also read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office.

Marshall University and INCO

Industry and higher education need each other. Industry continues to develop new and better products for its consumers and to provide a higher standard of living for its employees. To accomplish this, industry must look to the colleges and universities for better educated and more creative graduates. Higher education, in turn, looks to industry for partial support of its many programs.

Many Marshall trained people have shared in the progress of the Huntington Works of Inco and will continue to do so.

Marshall University and Inco will continue to be partners in progress.

Steel Framework

Ever building, a University expresses its growth through dramatic and noisy elements. Its story is one of progress, its hope that of the future, and its sight on growth.

Through building, the times writes a record of a drama unfolding, a growing university.

The building of faith

Editor's Note

This is the usual spot for a frustrated editor to air his opinions, feelings, and gripes about the preceding year's work. Many go into long dissertations on missed deadlines, lack of student support, and general complaints.

Due to the fact that few people will probably read this, I will be very brief and to the point.

My sincere thanks and gratitude goes out to all those staff members who expended their efforts in Marshall's behalf. Included are the "part-time" staff members who found it necessary, for many reasons, to discontinue their yearbook activities at various points throughout the year. The few brave souls who stuck it out the whole year are pictured in the CHIEF JUSTICE section of this book.

My special thanks is extended to Robert Vacheresse, who performed a multitude of duties; Mr. Frank Spear, our editorial advisor; and Mr. Ron Wempe, representative of S. B. Newman Printing Company.

And so another CHIEF JUSTICE is finished.
